ORANGE COUNTY FAST FACTS

Location: 28.5139 N Latitude & 81.3221 W Longitude, in East Central Florida, USA

Area: Total area: 1,003 square miles land area 907.6 square miles

Incorporated: Dec. 29, 1824

County Seat: Orlando

Geographic Location

Orange County is situated in the approximate center of the state of Florida, midway between Jacksonville and Miami. The St. Petersburg-Tampa area on the Gulf of Mexico, and Daytona Beach on the Atlantic Coast is easy drives for beach-goers.

Two of the state's major highways, Interstate 4 (east-west travel) and the Florida Turnpike (north-south travel), intersect just outside Orlando.

Orange County History

Immediately after the secession of Florida by Spain in 1821, the territory was divided into two counties: Escambia (which included the northern portion) and St. Johns (which included all the territory lying to the south and east of the Suwannee River). Three years later, the Legislative Council separated the central portion of Florida to form Mosquito County. This vast region contained 466 residents according to the 1850 census.

After Florida became a state in 1845, the County was renamed Orange County. Its territorial limits as they exist today were defined in 1913 and encompass an area of approximately 1,000 square miles. There are 13 municipalities within Orange County; Orlando is the county seat.

Orange County Charter

Orange County is a Charter County, meaning it has its own constitution and is self-governing. Having a Charter gives the County the ability to respond to a changing environment and meet local needs. The first Charter was adopted in November 1986 and went into effect on January 6, 1987. In November 1988, voters approved the creation of a new form of government for Orange County: a chairman elected by the community at large and the creation of six single-member districts.

ORANGE COUNTY NEIGHBORHOOD PRESERVATION & REVITALIZATION DIVISION

What is the Orange County Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division?

The Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division facilitates the establishment and maintenance of community organizations and serves as a neighborhood resource. The Division also develops strategies for addressing community issues and other programs that educate citizens about techniques to improve the quality of life in all communities.

Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division Mission

"The Orange County Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division strives to empower citizens and businesses by engaging them in a method to identify needs and issues so resources can be accessed to help revitalize, strengthen, and preserve the physical, social and economic value of Orange County Neighborhoods."

Orange County Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division Programs

The Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division is molded around four key principles: Community Revitalization, Community Preservation, Community Awareness, and Community Resources. Within each principle are various programs and services dedicated to improving the overall quality of life in Orange County. Following is a sampling of key programs and services offered by the Orange County Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division:

G.O. Neighborhoods:

This program assists neighborhoods and communities in unincorporated Orange County in organizing effective voluntary neighborhood associations. We work with residents by providing the information needed to create and maintain a self-sufficient, active neighborhood organization. So, G.O. Orange County Neighborhoods; Get Organized!

Safe Neighborhood Program:

The Safe Neighborhood Program was adopted by the Orange County Board of County Commissioners to assist residents with reclaiming communities before crime and deterioration create blight. The intent of the program is to assist citizens through partnerships with the Orange County Sheriff's Office, Orange County Planning Division, Orange County Code Enforcement Division, the private sector, and other partners to collaboratively preserve and stabilize neighborhoods.

Neighborhood Pride Grants:

The Neighborhood Pride Grant Program provides direct funding to support and assist citizens and organizations in improving the physical and social quality of neighborhoods. Funding is available in the form of grants to help organizations revitalize and preserve their neighborhoods. Grant awards are available countywide from October to May of each year in amounts between $1,000 and $20,000. Each grant has specific guidelines and requirements that must be followed. Neighborhoods that demonstrate a need will receive greater consideration. The following are some of the available grant opportunities.

Landscaping Grant:

Grant funding is available for projects seeking an award up to $2,500. Projects require a 25% community contribution. Total project costs must not exceed $3,125.

Entranceway Grant:

These grants provide funding to neighborhood organizations and homeowner associations for physical and aesthetic improvements to the exterior of the community. Funding is available for awards in a minimum of $1,500 to a maximum of $5,000. Projects require a 5% community contribution. Total project costs must not exceed $5,250.

ORANGE COUNTY NEIGHBORHOOD PRESERVATION & REVITALIZATION DIVISION

Capital Improvement Grant:

Funding is available to neighborhood organizations and homeowner associations for physical and aesthetic improvements to their community. Projects must be at least $12,000 up to a maximum of $20,000 total costs. This is a 50% matching grant. Projects require a community contribution, equal to the amount of funding that is requested. Total project costs cannot exceed $20,000.

Wall Repair Grant

The purpose of this grant is to provide an opportunity for neighborhood organizations and individual property owners to receive financial assistance to make repairs to damaged subdivision walls along a major roadway. This program will provide assistance to qualified applicants with funding up to $20,000.

Grant Technical Assistance:

Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division staff will help neighborhood organizations target private grant resources and submit funding applications for projects the neighborhoods would like to accomplish.

Orange County Community Conference:

This annual Conference provides neighborhood organizations and interested citizens with valuable information for improving their communities through educational and interactive workshops and networking opportunities.

Community Connection Workshop Series:

The Community Connections Workshops Series consists of monthly workshops usually held on the second Saturday of the month at the Orange County Internal Operations Center I, generally beginning at 9 a.m.. Workshops are designed to engage, inform, and educate citizens; featuring varied topics of interest to neighborhood organizations and residents alike. The workshops are a great opportunity for neighborhood leaders to network and learn from one another. Call for more information about upcoming workshops.

Small Area Studies:

Small Area Studies are an element of neighborhood planning comprehensive policy plan. Generally, we use these studies to focus on declining or transitioning communities and create partnerships with the residents and community stakeholders to define specific revitalization efforts.

Community Revitalization Element:

As part of Orange County's Comprehensive Policy Plan, the proposed Element will identify strategies for improving neighborhoods across the county in a systematic manner, in addition to providing the organization and guidance needed to establish neighborhood planning and stimulate community revitalization.

Advocacy:

The Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division serves as an advocate, when plausible, on behalf of citizens regarding issues that affect neighborhoods (collectively and individually). Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization also assists in "cutting-red tape" that often comes from not knowing who in local government to contact and what questions to ask.

Neighborhood Organizing 101

What is a neighborhood organization?

A neighborhood organization is a group of neighbors working together for the good of all, with a common vision, goals and objectives. A neighborhood organization makes decisions on common problems within a community by sharing ideas and solutions. Neighborhood organizations are the vehicles for communities to revitalize and preserve neighborhoods and enhance property values.

Why is neighborhood organizing important?

We all live in a community; as such we share a unique collection of problems and prospects in common with our neighbors. Participation in neighborhood affairs builds on the recognition of here-we-are-together, and a desire to recapture something of the tight-knit communities of the past. Neighborhood groups can act as vehicles for making connections between people, forums for resolving local differences, and a means of looking after one another. Most importantly, neighborhood organizations create a positive social environment that can become a community's best feature.

What are the various types of neighborhood organizations?

A Voluntary Neighborhood Organization is a voluntary association of homeowners, renters, and sometimes businesses formed within a specific geographic area. The issues of a voluntary organization are broad based, and address residential and business concerns which impact the community's quality of life. A voluntary organization does not enforce architectural controls, maintain deed restrictions or charge mandatory dues.

Neighborhood Organizing 101

A Mandatory Homeowners Association is a corporation of homeowners responsible for the operation of a community in which the membership is mandatory. This type of association has the power to impose assessments or dues, which if unpaid, may become a lien on the property. This association has the authority to enforce covenants through civil action. In Florida, subdivisions built after 1987 have mandatory homeowners associations. The governing authority of such organizations can be found in the Florida State Statutes, Chapter 720.

Where can I obtain a list of mandatory homeowners associations?

Every mandatory homeowners association within the State of Florida must register with the State Department Division of Corporations. The Division of Corporations has a comprehensive website where you can obtain copies of annual reports for every corporation in Florida. You can search by the name of the homeowners association and obtain names of Board members. Search the Division's website at www.sunbiz.org.

Does Orange County regulate homeowners associations?

Orange County, as with almost all other local governments, has no power to enforce or regulate the restrictive covenants or proceedings of mandatory homeowners associations. Restrictive covenants, also known as homeowner's covenants, or deed restrictions are private land use controls included as part of the property title when a home is purchased. A covenant restricts the use of the property and is enforceable usually by other property owners in the same subdivision who are part of the homeowners association Board of Directors. In some instances, a management company may run a homeowners association. Orange County Government has no jurisdiction to intercede in the affairs of these private non-profit corporations.

Neighborhood Organizing 101

If you have questions or concerns regarding your homeowners association, you should first familiarize yourself with your association documents, including: Bylaws; Articles of Incorporation; and Covenants, Conditions, and Restrictions (CC & R's). To obtain a copy of these documents, first contact your HOA Board. A copy of these documents may be available from the Orange County Official Records Department at (407) 836-5115. If research does not answer your question or address your concern, you should contact a real estate attorney or a title company to request a search of the public records for all recorded documents for your community. The cost of a real estate attorney is typically less than $100. If the associations' articles of incorporation or bylaws have not been recorded in the public records, a copy of the articles of incorporation can be obtained from the Florida Department of State Division of Corporations, Corporate Filings, PO Box 6327, Tallahassee, FL 32314.

What is the Florida State Statutes, Chapter 720, Homeowner Association?

Florida State Statutes, Title XL, Real & Personal Property, Chapter 720, Homeowners' Associations, provides for reasonable rules governing homeowners associations. The purpose of state statutes 720.301-720.312 are to give statutory recognition to corporations that operate residential communities in this state, to provide procedures for operating homeowners association, and to protect the rights of the association members without duly impairing the ability of such associations to perform their functions. For more information the website address is www.leg.state.fl.us/statutesU.

How to select the right property management company?

There are two different types of property management companies. If you decide to hire one, you will want one that specializes in HOA's. You may want to contact other HOA Board Members to get a recommendation for a management company or you can get a listing from the Community Association Institute (CAI) at www.caimidflorida.org.

GETTING STARTED

How is a voluntary neighborhood organization established?

To start a voluntary neighborhood organization, first talk with other neighbors to see if they are interested. Once you have a group of four or five interested residents contact Orange County Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division to express interest in participating in the G.O. Neighborhoods program. G.O. Neighborhoods is designed to assist neighborhoods and communities in unincorporated Orange County in organizing effective associations. The Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division will provide residents with the information needed to create and maintain a self-sufficient, active neighborhood organization.

Important Guidelines to keep in mind as you begin to organize:

- Building an organization is a process. It cannot be done overnight; be patient. Identify neighborhood priorities and build on them step-by-step.
- Set realistic goals. Start small and build upward. As you organizational structure grows, start setting your goals higher.

GETTING STARTED

How can an organization recruit new members?

Getting new people involved in an organization is exciting. New people have enthusiasm and energy, which can be infectious, serving to motivate others in the group. The following are some volunteer recruitment strategies to bring life into your organization:

- ✓ Door to door personal contacts such as surveys and interviews.
- ✓ Adopt-a-Neighbor (each member brings a neighbor to the meeting).
- ✓ Media involvement to promote a special meeting or event.
- ✓ Post fliers announcing your meeting at neighborhood markets, laundromats, businesses, schools, etc.
- ✓ Keep your group diversified. Healthy groups have a mix of age, gender, ethnic background, businesses, schools, etc.
- ✓ Develop a recruitment brochure explaining your neighborhood organization.
- ✓ Involve other groups in the community with goals or activities similar to your groups.
- ✓ Never recruit for specific jobs until you know how you will use each volunteer.
- ✓ Personal Invitations.
- ✓ Place recruitment ads in newsletters from other groups, community newspapers, etc.
- ✓ Contact local volunteer resource agencies for referrals.
- ✓ Place exhibits in stores, malls, volunteer fairs, etc.
- ✓ Work with Neighborhood Watch block coordinators to identify people who care about the neighborhood.
- ✓ Use your newsletter to promote and recruit. Instead of reporting on an issue, showcase how your group has made a difference.
- ✓ Be honest about time demands. Be specific about the job and how the person could help.
- ✓ Assure new volunteers that they do not have to be experts; training and support will be provided.
- ✓ Do not be afraid to try different approaches to advertising, such as T-shirts, bumper stickers, buttons, calendars, open houses, neighborhood tours, etc.

GETTING STARTED

What are some ideas for setting goals?

Your neighborhood organization needs clear direction. In order to chart that direction, it is important to determine the social and physical needs of your neighborhood and identify goals accordingly. A Goal is simply a statement of what your organization wants to accomplish over a specified period of time. For example, "To physically improve the neighborhood by implementing a beautification project to enhance the common areas, the main entrance and medians throughout the neighborhood". An Objective is a statement that explains how your organization will reach its goal. Your objectives need to be specific, measurable, clear and concise, realistic and achievable within a certain timeframe. For example, "Create a site plan by September 1st identifying all the common areas and medians requiring landscaping."

What are some advantages of goal setting?

Goal setting allows a neighborhood organization to:

- ✓ Become aware of neighborhood needs. By setting goals for your organization, the needs of your neighborhood will come into focus. These needs give your organization a purpose and meaning.
- ✓ Accomplish projects. By setting time limits for project completion, your organization can anticipate how much work is ahead and schedule it accordingly.
- ✓ Strive towards a mark. Goal setting keeps your members involved and motivated. If your organization has set a target date to complete a project, then the energy level of members will increase as the target dates draw near.
- ✓ Keep members active. If your neighborhood organization has set goals, there will be plenty of projects to work on. If members are not busy, then it is time to get them working to accomplish existing goals.

GETTING STARTED

What are organization bylaws?

Bylaws are the governing documents of any neighborhood organization and are central to establishing a successful organization. Bylaws specify how an organization operates. It is not necessary for bylaws to detail every aspect of the organization. However, bylaws must provide enough guidance for officers and members to perform necessary tasks. When bylaws are too vague, the organization will not have adequate structure. Also, frequent amendments often cause the organization to stray too far from its original purpose. Much literature, including Roberts Rules of Order, has been written for the purpose of assisting residents in writing bylaws. These books are available at your local library. Or, contact Orange County Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division to request a sample set of bylaws for a voluntary neighborhood organization (407-836-5606)

INCORPORATION AND TAX EXEMPT STATUS

How do I incorporate my organization with non-profit status?

Incorporating as a non-profit organization can help define a group and contribute to its credibility as a viable, working body of interested citizens. Incorporation also protects the liability of group members. Within the State of Florida, the cost for filing a non-profit incorporation is under $100.00, but then there are annual fees that are less than the original filing fee. For incorporation papers contact the Florida Department of State, Division of Corporations, Post Office Box 6327, Tallahassee, FL 32314, (850) 245-6052 or visit their website at www.sunbiz.org

What will tax-exempt status do for my organization?

Tax-exempt status is often confused with incorporation. A group must usually be incorporated at the state level before it can apply for tax exemption from the federal government, Internal Revenue Service (IRS) www.irs.gov. When organizing your association you may want to consider filing for tax-exempt status. This status allows contributors to deduct from their income taxes any financial contributions donated to your organization. Section 501c(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 exempts a non-profit organization from paying federal, state, and local taxes if the activities of the organization are carried out for "charitable purposes." The IRS defines charitable purposes as:

- ✓ Relieving poverty.
- ✓ Advancing religion, education or science.
- ✓ Lessening the burdens of government.
- ✓ Reducing neighborhood tensions.
- ✓ Eliminating prejudice and discrimination.
- ✓ Defending human and civil rights.
- ✓ Combating community deterioration and juvenile delinquency.

INCORPORATION AND TAX EXEMPT STATUS

What are the advantages and disadvantages of tax-exempt status?

Advantages of Tax-Exempt Status

- ✓ Exemption from federal, state, and local corporate income taxes, federal excise and employment taxes, and state and local usage, property and other taxes.
- ✓ Ability to accept tax-deductible charitable contributions from individuals, corporate donors, private foundations and governmental agencies.
- ✓ Lower bulk mail postage rates for second and third class mailings.
- ✓ Exemption from the Organized Crime Control Act, which prohibits illegal gambling; i.e., bingo, lotteries, raffles, or other games of chance.
- ✓ Exemption from taxation under the Federal Insurance Contribution Act (Social Security) and Federal Unemployment Tax Act, when professionals, such as attorneys or accountants, perform services for the organization.

Disadvantages of Tax-Exempt Status

- ✓ Application is time consuming and complicated.
- ✓ Extensive annual reporting requirements.
- ✓ Observance of numerous limitations to maintain the tax-exempt status.
- ✓ Close scrutiny by the IRS and the general public.

EFFECTIVE MEETINGS

How do I plan for an effective meeting?

The success of any event is directly related to the planning and detail that was involved. As such, planning for your neighborhood organization's meetings is just as important as hosting them. Here are some meetings planning tips to keep in mind:

- Meeting Location - Find a meeting place that can accommodate the meeting. If you are expecting a small group, you may want to have your first meeting in someone's home. For a group of larger than ten people, check the availability of your local community center, church or school. Schools and some County owned community centers might waive fees for neighborhood organization meetings.
- Speakers' - You may want to invite someone to speak to issues, concerns, and interests expressed by your neighbors. You may invite speakers from various County Divisions such as Planning, Roads and Drainage, Traffic Engineering, Code Enforcement or the Sheriff's Office. If you have a concern that you want addressed, call the Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division at 407-836-5606 for potential speaker ideas.
- Meeting Announcement - Good promotion and advance notification of the meeting are important. Give neighbors at least two weeks notice of the dates and times of meetings.
- Sign-in - Provide a sign-in sheet for neighbors and guests. This allows you to keep track of attendance and to develop a mailing list for future notifications.
- Name Tags - Provide name tags to identify the officers/directors and neighbors. Often neighbors may recognize faces, but may not know names. The nametags help to promote friendliness.
- Agenda - Provide an agenda to keep the meeting flowing and in order. Keep it simple and follow the agenda at all times.

EFFECTIVE MEETINGS

What are some tips to running an effective meeting?

The ability to host effective meetings can often be the pass-fail mark for neighborhood organizations. The success of your organization is a result of the energy, productivity and efficiency of your monthly membership meetings, executive board meetings and even annual election meetings. Following are some tried and true tips for hosting an effective meeting:

- ✓ Always start meetings on time.
- ✓ Open the meeting location at least 15 minutes early for residents to arrive, socialize, and prepare.
- ✓ Begin meetings with an icebreaker to lighten the mood.
- ✓ Introduce public officials at the beginning of each meeting.
- ✓ Recognize newcomers and ask them to state what street they live on.
- ✓ State the purpose of the meeting and proposed discussion items.
- ✓ Be brief and keep comments relevant to each discussion. Monitor the pacing so the meeting is not too long (consider using Roberts Rules of Order).
- ✓ Use visual aids. Residents will relate to something they can see.
- ✓ Allow everyone to contribute. After a concern or project is presented, open the discussion. However, set a time limit.
- ✓ Prepare any needed research ahead of time.
- ✓ Make frequent summaries during the discussion so that everyone clearly understands what is being stated.
- ✓ Promote cooperation not conflict. If conflict occurs, appoint a committee to research the concern and report findings at next meeting. Encourage those individuals who are voicing their concerns to be on the committee.
- ✓ Assign tasks and delegate responsibility as the meeting proceeds. This give neighbors a feeling of belonging instead of just listening.
- ✓ Guide the meeting from concerns to solutions. Always ask your neighbors how they would solve or approach a concern. Keep in mind that some solutions may take time.
- ✓ Towards the end of the meeting, go over the agenda, giving an overview of each concern discussed or raised.
- ✓ Before adjourning, state the next meeting date, time and place, and thank everyone for attending.

NEIGHBORHOOD EVENTS AND VOLUNTEERS

How do I plan a neighborhood block party?

There is no better way of getting together and meeting your neighbors than having a block party. Neighborhoods are better and safer places to live when there is a sense of caring and friendliness in the area. Block parties can vary from a simple gathering of a few folks in a front yard, to a highly organized event involving dozens of streets in the neighborhood. Start with a neighborhood block party Committee. Assign responsibilities for the party's components. Event planners should meet as often as needed before the party to assign responsibility for every event task and to continue to build volunteer support. Publicize, Publicize, and Publicize! If you are thinking of having a block party, contact the Orange County's Office of the Fire Marshal at (407) 836-8378 for the appropriate permit.

What is the best way to work with volunteers?

Neighbors and volunteers remain active in their organization when they feel they are contributing positively to the community and when they are recognized for the effort they make within the organization. People join community groups to meet people, to have fun, to learn new skills, to pursue an interest, and to link their lives to some higher purpose. They leave if they don't find what they are looking for. Citizens groups need to ask themselves more often: What benefits do we provide? At what cost to members? How can we increase the benefits and decrease the costs? Here are some items to keep in mind when working with volunteers:

Most people volunteer if:

- They have information about the organization and its purpose.
- They identify with the objectives of the organization.
- They know what is expected of them in time and effort.
- They know that their interests and abilities will be effectively utilized.

NEIGHBORHOOD EVENTS AND VOLUNTEERS

How can I prevent volunteer burnout?

Volunteer burnout can be devastating to the productivity of a neighborhood organization. In order to keep your volunteers energetic, creative and enthusiastic, keep the following volunteer burnout tips in mind:

- ✓ Develop coherent operating plans.
- ✓ Set realistic objectives.
- ✓ Prepare job descriptions or task outlines so people know what is expected of them.
- ✓ Recognize different abilities and tolerance levels in handing out work assignments. Do not let one person take on everything.
- ✓ Remind people that the quality of their work is important, not the quantity.
- ✓ Organize fun events. This will create a social network of friends and neighbors and give people an opportunity to have a good time.

What are some innovative ways to reward volunteers?

- ✓ Certificates of appreciation.
- ✓ Informal celebrations or gift presentations at meetings.
- ✓ Thank-you notes. Send a copy to the individual's employer or family to let them know about that person's achievements.
- ✓ Take pictures of events/achievements. Framed copies of pictures make terrific awards.
- ✓ Recognize individual special needs. If someone in your group is ill, a get-well card affirms the volunteer is valuable and missed.
- ✓ Use media sources to announce achievements.
- Invite media photographers to recognition events.
- ✓ Consider gift certificates or a scholarship to a conference or workshop.
- ✓ Prepare personal profiles, articles for your neighborhood newsletter/webpage, or other media sources.
- ✓ Plan a formal recognition party for members and families to celebrate the group's success and acknowledge individual volunteers.
- ✓ Do not forget the value of very simple thank you gestures.

NEIGHBORLY COMMUNICATION

What are some helpful hints for a Neighborhood Newsletter?

Newsletters can be simple or complex. No matter what format you choose, newsletters help keep everyone informed of concerns, meetings, activities, and other important issues. Here are a few things to think through before you publish:

- Production cost can be a significant factor in what type of newsletter you produce. Check with a local print shop for ideas for less costly newsletters. You may want to contact local businesses to help sponsor the newsletter or charge a fee for advertising in the newsletter.
- Usually, a team effort works best when producing newsletters. However, someone should coordinate the efforts of the group and edit the newsletter. Your organization should appoint a committee and chairperson to be responsible for producing the newsletter.
- By enlisting the participation of as many members as possible, you can appoint members of different committees to write articles and assign reporters to collect information from authors or research topics for the different newsletter articles.
- Like many other community groups, neighborhood organizations find newsletters to be great tools to communicate with neighbors about current activities of the organization.
- Identify someone who has a personal computer. You may save money by producing the layout yourselves.
- Select committee members who are skilled in writing and editing.
- Have clear deadlines for submitting all articles, editing, printing, and distributing each issue of the newsletter.

NEIGHBORLY COMMUNICATION

What is the ideal length for a Neighborhood Newsletter?

The length of your neighborhood newsletter depends on both your budget and the topics your group considers important. A good newsletter can be as short as one page. After settling on a length, structure your newsletter by organizing it into regular features or columns. Some regular newsletter items may include:

- Committee Reports.
- Organization meeting places and times.
- Personal announcements.
- Letter from the President.
- Neighborhood News.
- Job listings.
- Upcoming events.
- Editorials.
- Children's Column.
- Updates on local issues.
- Volunteer Acknowledgements.
- Holiday Activities.
- Neighborhood Watch Report
- Items or services needed to complete neighborhood improvement projects.

Cutting costs on Newsletter Production

Explore having your newsletter printed free or at a reduced cost. Possible sources of free copying are churches, schools, community boards and workplaces of group members. A local printer might donate the job or offer a special rate in exchange for a credit line in the newsletter that urges members to use his or her company. Another possibility is the local merchants association; try offering free ad space. You may also want to sell ads in the newsletter itself to defray your costs. Here are some possible revenue sources:

- Talk to local merchants; they are often happy to reach out to members of the community through community newsletters.
- Stress the interdependence of commercial and residential areas in a neighborhood -- how the health of one depends on the health of the other.
- You may want to offer special rates for larger ads -- i.e., $10.00 for a quarter-page ad, $17.50 for half a page.
- Encourage readers to patronize your advertisers and to tell merchants they saw their ad in your newsletter.

NEIGHBORLY COMMUNICATION

Successful Newsletter Distribution

Before you reproduce your newsletter, make a list of all the people who need to get it. This could include all members of your group, other members of the community, elected officials, local institutions (such as county/city agencies, schools, community board members, local development organizations), and local press. This will tell you how many copies to print. Once printed, newsletters can be distributed door-to-door or e-mailed. Here are some successful distribution tips:

- Be consistent. If your newsletter comes at the same time each month, people will begin to expect and anticipate it. Some groups issue newsletters quarterly.
- Call a meeting of building and/or block captains. Ask them to distribute the newsletters and to make sure everyone gets a copy.
- Rather than leave newsletters in lobbies of large apartment building, try to get residents to slip a copy under each door.
- Some community groups hire neighborhood youth or youth groups, like the boy scouts, to distribute the papers.
- Ask local merchants if you can leave newsletters on the counter for people to pick up. This is a good way of reaching out to potential new members.
- If you mail your newsletter, be sure to figure postage expenses into your budget.
- If your mailing list is large and speedy delivery is not a concern, you may want to save money by sorting your labels into strict zip code order and mailing bulk rate; call the Post Office for full details.

NEIGHBORLY COMMUNICATION

What are some tips for preparing Flyers, Posters and Meeting Notices?

Below are some guidelines to maximize your promotional and communication efforts via flyers, meeting notices, and correspondence for your neighborhood:

- When producing your printed information flyers and materials, be sure to answer the basics - Who, What, When, and How in all printed materials.
- Choose your words carefully - less is better when designing flyers and notices. Be sure your printed materials are easy to read and draw the reader's attention.
- Talk with other neighborhood organizations for examples.
- Mandatory associations have a legal responsibility to keep residents informed and must produce notices in a timely fashion. Check your articles of incorporation and bylaws for more information

Why survey your Neighborhood?

There are infinite reasons to conduct survey research in your neighborhood. You may need to know what issues are impacting your neighbors the most. Is it traffic, noise, or lack of recreational facilities? Survey research is one method for documenting what the concerns and needs of the neighborhood are. It is also used as a method of public outreach and involvement. Survey research is a major part of neighborhood planning since it is a grassroots form of obtaining public participation and input.

How many kinds of surveys are there?

There are three different types of survey questionnaires:

- The mail survey also known as the self-administered questionnaire.
- The interview survey that requires face to face reading and recording of answers,
- The telephone survey that is administered via telephone.

HOW TO IMPROVE MY NEIGHBORHOOD

In the ideal neighborhood, everyone does his or her part to be a good neighbor.

Ten Ways To Improve Your Neighborhood: (adapted from Kansas City)

1. Report crime promptly Neighbors sometimes don't report criminal activity because they don't want to bother the police; they assume police are too short-staffed to respond, or they think there isn't much a policeman can (or will) do about a problem anyway. Whether the issue is petty vandalism, graffiti, or something more serious, police cannot act without first hearing about the problem from citizens.
2. Report nuisances and other noncriminal problems promptly.
3. Take away the opportunity for crime.
 - Lock your car, and never leave valuables, even for a few minutes, in the car where would-be thieves might see them.
 - Trim bushes or trees on your property that offers convenient hiding places.
 - Make your front porch visible and make sure your home looks like someone lives there.
4. Meet the young people who live on your block, and greet them by name. This ensures that each adult is better able to help in an emergency and is better prepared to discuss problems immediately as they arise.
5. Make a list of the names and phone numbers of every neighbor on your block Unless you know your neighbors' names and numbers, you can't call them about a concern or let them know about a neighborhood problem.
6. Make a list of landlords in your area. As property owners in our community, landlords are responsible to the neighborhood, and most are rightly concerned about the health of the community in which they own property.

HOW TO IMPROVE MY NEIGHBORHOOD

7. Turn your porch light on. Crime tends to decline in neighborhoods that are well lit. Turning on porch lights is a simple way to increase neighborhood security. Stay where you are. Stable neighborhoods are built on the commitment of long term residents who would rather live in a healthy community than move to a bigger house or to the suburbs.
8. Walk around the block. It sounds simple enough, but neighbors benefit over time when responsible citizens walk more at night (every night) around their block. Get involved with your neighborhood. If you don't have a neighborhood organization or crime watch, gather some neighbors together and start one. If there already is a group, get involved. You don't have to be on a committee to be involved; at least make sure that you or someone in your household attends the meetings and knows who the leader is. You'll be kept better informed of the issues facing your neighborhood and how you can help; more importantly, you have the opportunity to shape, guide and participate in the future of your neighborhood and our city.
9. Drive slowly on neighborhood streets. You can take the lead in slowing down traffic in your neighborhood.
10. Pick up litter near your home, even if you didn't put it there. You can help stop the growth of trash in your neighborhood by taking away the existing litter that attracts still more litter. In addition, residents will be less inclined to litter when they see you set the opposite example.

WORKING WITH LOCAL GOVERNMENT

How can our group work effectively with local government?

A successful neighborhood organization is one, which understands the "ins and outs" of local government. Effective partnerships between neighborhood organizations and local government are essential both to the success of the organization and the responsiveness of local government to the needs of its communities. Following are some tips for working with local government

- Set your goals. What is most important for your neighborhood organization to accomplish in order to maintain livability?
- Know your issues and do your homework. Find out who is affected and whom the appropriate people are that can help.
- Become familiar with the structure and purpose of your local government.
- Become acquainted with procedure. Attend meetings of your public officials; understand how they operate and the pressures they are under.
- Allow your officials to get to know you. The best form of contact is through meetings, phone calls, letters or emails.
- Keep you public officials informed and do not surprise them with unexpected actions. Give your officials written copies of your concerns and follow up with letters.
- Work on all levels. First, contact the person most directly responsible for your concern. Then work on all levels by going to your appointed and elected officials.
- Make it clear that you represent a group. Identify the name of your group and its purpose and ensure that you have the group's authorization before acting.
- Get solid answers. Don't be satisfied with vague responses. Talk to informed people and solicit answers you can rely on.
- Be open to suggestions. Take them seriously and follow up. Progress occurs when everyone pushes in the same direction.
- Follow up a discussion with a memo summarizing the items discussed and outcome. Check periodically on the status of the action to see if decisions are being made.
- Do not work in a vacuum. Keep the neighborhood informed about proceedings with local officials.

WORKING WITH LOCAL GOVERNMENT

How can I present successfully to a government board?

Giving public testimony before the Board of County Commissioners or any County Board can be frightening if you have never done it before. There are several things you can do to make your thoughts and presentation clear and successful:

How to give public testimony:

- Be familiar with the Board's process. Attend meetings before you testify to get familiar with the room layout and meeting procedures.
- Know your issues. Support opinions with as many facts as possible. Be knowledgeable of the opposition's arguments and be prepared to counter.
- Know your audience. Try to stress what you have in common and respect the differences of Board members.
- Wear appropriate clothing. Men should wear a business suit with tie. Good grooming is also important for men and women making presentations.
- Be aware of how you present yourself. Be conscious of your body language and how you may be perceived.
- Check your feelings at the door before you speak. Don't overshadow your presentation with strong feelings.
- Don't ask questions at the public hearing. Schedule an appointment with staff well in advance of the hearing to get your questions answered.
- Be courteous when making your presentation. For example, avoid complaining about having to take time off from work to attend the hearing.
- Maintain eye contact. Use notes rather than a written manuscript so you can develop good eye contact.
- Define what you want. Make it perfectly clear what action you want the group to take.
- Summarize important points.
- Provide copies of your written remarks for each member of the board, appropriate staff, and the media.

What are some tips for successful fundraising?

You do not need to raise funds to begin organizing your neighborhood. However, you will need money to launch a large an action program or complete neighborhood improvement projects. If you decide to fundraise, be careful; you can lose money and at the same time divert time and resources away from your objectives. If you decide to raise money, here are some suggestions:

- Individual contributions - Asking for contributions from local people turns fundraising into community building. People become more attached to groups, projects, and places they feel they own. Money can come from membership dues, advertisement fees from your community newsletter, collections at meetings, door-to-door canvassing, planned giving, memorial giving, and direct mail. Some groups make donations tax deductible by registering as a charity with the federal government.
- In-kind donations - Seek in-kind or non-monetary contributions. Examples include donations of printing, equipment, furniture, space, services, food, and time. Local businesses respond well to requests for in-kind donations.

NEIGHBORHOOD GRANTS & FUNDRAISING

- Auctions - Consider an auction. Neighbors can donate babysitting on a Friday night, chocolate cake for eight, or three hours of house repairs. At a community party, your auctioneer sells every treasure to the highest bidder.
- Grants from governments & foundations - With so many potential sources of assistance, half the challenge is figuring out who supports what. After identifying a possible grant, find out about application procedures. Receiving a grant usually requires writing a good proposal. Look for matching grants. In many cases governments will contribute a dollar for every dollar raised by citizens.
- Bake sales - Bake sales can be a very effective method for raising funds for your community. Food provides a good crowd-gathering event. Bake sales can also present an opportunity for displaying culinary aptitudes for children and adults alike. Children can help with the baking and selling of the goods.
- Garage/Yard sales - Consider an annual weekend community-wide garage or yard sale. The proceeds from your community-wide sale go to your organization's treasury. A $3 fee is required per household and paid to the Zoning Division (407-836-5525). Orange County Code allows two consecutive days for garage sales every six months.
- Community Cookbook - Everyone needs a cookbook! Gather together many different recipes from neighbors and add stories about what the recipe means to the cook, where the recipe came from, and so forth. The cookbook doesn't need to be fancy, just print it up on the computer and have it bound at a local copy shop. The first couple of pages can be dedicated to talking about your organization.
- T-shirt Sales - Many neighborhood organizations have their own t-shirts. T-shirt sales can be quite profitable as well as a great way to promote your group. They can be sold through a variety of ways: at every fundraising event that you hold or maybe you have friends/family who work in offices that can distribute the t-shirts.

NEIGHBORHOOD ORGANIZATION MENTOR NETWORK

Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division maintains a list of mentors that have volunteered to serve as a resource for neighborhood organizations. The Neighborhood Organization Mentor Network is designed to pair neighborhood organizations that have questions with experts in various topics pertinent to neighborhoods and the operation of neighborhood organizations.

Here is how the Neighborhood Organization Mentor Network works: a neighborhood organization in need contacts one of the mentors listed in this directory that is designated as an expert in the specific subject matter in question. These mentoring organizations have identified a volunteer resident that is willing to provide assistance with specified area or areas of expertise. Examples of assistance may include tips on resolving conflicts, ideas and expertise in newsletter production, neighborhood organization website development, tips on running effective meetings, recruiting volunteers, and much more. A Neighborhood Organization Mentor agrees to assist neighborhood organization upon request. In most instances, a neighborhood organization in need will contact a mentor directly. Together, they arrange a meeting date and location, or establish the medium used (i.e. email, telephone, etc.) to provide assistance.

In order to facilitate this mentoring effort, a number of organizations have identified mentors. These mentors are listed in the following pages. We hope this information will help to form lasting partnerships between organizations.

The Neighborhood Mentors listed are willing to assist other neighborhood organizations in the following fields of expertise:

Adopting-a-Voting-Precinct	HOA/Condo Association - Insurance	Speakers (Subject Specific)
Bylaws (Creating / Revising)	HOA/Condo Best Practices	Starting a Neighborhood Watch
Covenant Enforcement	Increasing Resident Involvement	Resolving Neighborhood Conflict
Crime Prevention	Mobile Home Park Issues	Revising CC&R's
Emergency Preparedness	Newsletter Production	Website Development
Fundraising	Obtaining Nonprofit 501(c)(3)	Other as listed...
	Parliamentary Procedures (Robert's Rules)

We welcome your comments and suggestions concerning the Neighborhood Organization Mentor Network, and we hope you find it useful. Please contact the Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization Division (407-836-5606) if you are interested in being a Neighborhood Organization Mentor. Neighborhood Preservation & Revitalization staff often asks Mentors to speak at workshops or share their expertise at the Annual Orange County Community Conference.
